RMI's Orientation Training Materials

RMI firmly believes that in order to have a "Forever Relationship", you must have adequate preparation. It is crucial to a successful visit. This Orientation Training is one of RMI's distinctive features.

Our aim is to prepare you well for this spiritual adventure. To be effective, and to avoid some of the common pitfalls of short-term ministry, you will need comprehensive cross-cultural training, professional guidance and support before and after your trip.

The Training Manual is the core of our Team Orientation. It is written by RMI founders, Herb and Shirley Shoemaker, who have over 100 years of missionary experience between them. It is jam-packed with practical, pertinent and up-to-date information that you will find essential in your preparations for cross-cultural ministry to your Sister Church in Haiti.

In addition to the manual, the supplemental materials are excellent. They also have practical and pertinent information that you will find essential in your preparations and your Partnership.

We believe the training that you will receive by using these materials will uniquely prepare you for what you will experience as you go. It will be a substantial return on your investment!

We care deeply about making sure you are trained and prepared to go. Therefore, these materials are required. Each and every team member is to go through the training, no matter how many times he or she has been to Haiti.

Please make sure you order these materials at least 3 months before your trip. This will enable RMI to get them to you in a timely manner to allow you enough time for your team to complete the training.

To order, contact Debbie Shoemaker, RMI Director of Communications at 877-RMI-5439.
